ID	Analysis	Key Findings	Evidence	Business Implication	Recommendation	Priority
1	Segment Performance	The Consumer segment generates the highest Sales and Profit.	Sales: $1,161,401; Profit: $134,119	A significant share of total revenue and profit comes from Consumer customers.	Analyze Consumer customer needs and identify opportunities to increase sales and profitability	High
2	Segment Performance	The Home Office segment has the highest Profit Margin.	Profit Margin: 14.03%	Home Office sales are relatively more profitable than other customer segments.	Investigate the products and discount strategies contributing to this higher margin.	Medium
3	Segment Performance	The Corporate segment achieves a Profit Margin of 13.03%.	Sales: $706,146; Profit: $91,979	Corporate customers represent an important source of business profit.	Identify opportunities to maintain and improve Corporate segment profitability.	Medium
4	Category Performance	Technology generates the highest Sales and Profit.	Sales: $836,154; Profit: $145,455	Technology is the largest contributor to total sales and profit.	Identify opportunities to maintain and expand Technology sales while protecting	High
5	Category Performance	Furniture has a significantly lower Profit Margin than other categories.	Profit Margin: 2.49%	High sales volume does not translate into strong profitability.	Investigate discount levels, product costs, and unprofitable Furniture sub-	High

7	Sub-Category Performance	Copiers generates the highest Profit among all Sub-Categories.	Profit: $55,617.82; Profit Margin: 37.20%	Copiers is a major contributor to overall business profitability.	Analyze successful Copiers products and maintain strategies that support their	High
8	Sub-Category Performance	Tables generates the largest financial loss, with a negative Profit Margin of -8.56%.	Sales: $206,965.53; Loss: $17,725.48; Margin: -8.56%	Tables generates substantial sales but negatively impacts overall profit.	Investigate discount levels, product costs, and pricing strategies to identify the causes of	High
9	Sub-Category Performance	Bookcases generates negative Profit despite substantial Sales.	Sales: $114,880.00; Loss: $3,472.56; Margin: -3.02%	Bookcases sales are not translating into positive profitability.	Review product-level profitability, discounts, and pricing to identify loss-making items.	High
#	Sub-Category Performance	Machines has high Sales but a very low Profit Margin of 1.79%	Sales: $189,238.63; Profit: $3,384.76; Margin: 1.79%	Machines generates high sales but contributes relatively little profit.	Evaluate discount policies and costs to identify opportunities to improve profit	High
#	Sub-Category Performance	Labels achieves the highest Profit Margin at 44.42%	Sales: $12,486.31; Profit: $5,546.25; Margin: 44.42%	Labels achieves strong profitability, although its sales volume is relatively low.	Explore opportunities to increase Labels sales while maintaining its current profitability.	Medium

Discount Analysis	Discount levels of 30% and above are associated with negative Profit.	All discount levels from 30% to 80% generate negative Profit.	High discount levels may significantly reduce business profitability.	Review high-discount policies and evaluate their financial	High
Discount Analysis	The 80% discount level has the lowest Profit Margin at -180.03%.	80% Discount Sales $16,963.76; Loss $30,539.04; Margin -180.03%.	The highest discount level is associated with substantial financial losses.	Investigate the products and transactions receiving 80% discounts.	High
Discount Analysis	Profitability generally declines as discount levels increase.	Profit Margin decreases from 29.51% at 0% discount to negative values at discount levels of 30% and above.	Increasing discounts may negatively affect profitability.	Establish discount limits based on product-level profitability	High
Product Performance	Cubify CubeX Double Head Printer generates the largest product-level loss.	Sales: $11,099.96; Loss: $8,879.97	High sales do not necessarily translate into profitability.	Investigate discount levels and product-level profitability before continuing aggressive	High
Regional Performanc	West generates the highest Sales and Profit.	Sales: $725,458; Profit: $108,418; Margin: 14.94%	West is the strongest region in terms of sales and profitability.	Identify successful practices in West and evaluate whether they can be applied	High
Regional Performanc	Central has the lowest Profit Margin.	Profit Margin: 7.92%.	Central generates relatively low profit compared to its sales.	Investigate product mix and discount patterns in Central to identify opportunities to improve	High